

Making a Scene

a service user led & managed group working with current & past mental health service users.

Creative Arts / Drama Group weekly group

Come along and join us for creative fun!

There will be lots of drama –
for those who already know us, there will be more of what you like, for those who don't know us: there will be ice breakers, games, improvisation, some movement and music, silly ideas, lots of fun and quiet moments too...

There will be some writing –
There will be some writing exercises, threaded throughout the year. The writing grows out of the drama, there's no pressure to perform or be a fabulous poet, although fabulous poetry may well be a result....

Making a Scene is supported by Deborah Gearing, who has worked extensively with Making a Scene. Deborah is a director and playwright, and currently working on a play for the National Theatre.
